Figure 1 is a line graph titled "Percentage of total population in the labor force by age group, 1960-1990". The vertical axis (Y-axis) is labeled "Percentage of total population in the labor force" and ranges from 0 to 100 in increments of 10. The horizontal axis (X-axis) is labeled "Year" and ranges from 1960 to 1990 in increments of 10. There are six data series representing different age groups: 15-24, 25-34, 35-44, 45-54, 55-64, and 65+. The 15-24 age group starts at approximately 25% in 1960 and declines steadily to about 15% in 1990. The 25-34 age group starts at approximately 15% in 1960 and rises slightly to about 20% in 1990. The 35-44 age group starts at approximately 10% in 1960 and rises slightly to about 15% in 1990. The 45-54 age group starts at approximately 5% in 1960 and rises slightly to about 10% in 1990. The 55-64 age group starts at approximately 2% in 1960 and rises slightly to about 5% in 1990. The 65+ age group starts at approximately 1% in 1960 and rises slightly to about 2% in 1990.

BAGUIO FLOWER FESTIVAL

City cashes in on 'Panagbenga'

By Sharon M. Dela Cruz

BAGUIO, PHILIPPINES—The city of Baguio, known as the "Summer Capital of the Philippines," is cashing in on the annual Panagbenga flower festival.

The festival, which is held every February, is a celebration of the city's rich floral heritage. It features a variety of flower parades, including the famous "Flower Queen" parade, where the winner is crowned and crowned with a crown made of flowers.

The festival also features a variety of other activities, including flower exhibitions, flower sales, and flower-related games. The festival is a major attraction for tourists and is a source of pride for the city's residents.

The festival is a source of income for the city, as it attracts thousands of tourists who spend money on food, accommodation, and other services. The festival is also a source of pride for the city's residents, who take great pride in their floral heritage.

POC calls on President to fire Angping

By Capital & Bay

MANILA (PDI) — The Philippine Olympic Committee (POC) has called on President Benigno Aquino III to fire Angping, the head of the Philippine Olympic Committee (POC), after the committee's executive committee (EC) voted to remove him from his post.

The POC EC, which is the highest decision-making body of the POC, voted 10-0 to remove Angping from his post as head of the POC. The EC also voted to elect a new head of the POC.

Angping, who has been head of the POC since 2009, was accused of mismanagement and corruption. The EC's decision was based on a report from the POC's internal audit committee, which found that Angping had misappropriated POC funds and had engaged in corrupt practices.

The POC is a government-owned corporation that is responsible for organizing and managing the Philippine Olympic team. It is also responsible for promoting sports and physical education in the Philippines.

The POC's EC is composed of representatives from various sports organizations and government agencies. The EC's decision is final and cannot be appealed.

Philippines Shell is appealing to COPPE to ensure accuracy of its data and claims to avoid misleading the public. Their article and unfounded charges send a wrong signal to both the local and international business community, which relies on company testimony based on correct, well-checked and thoroughly evaluated data sources.

Any party or individual who claims to know the public duty of 'protecting public interest' and promoting 'common good' but who believes it should not be emphasized based on unjustified claims, particularly when the party has not taken any direct stakes in the industry by which the claims were being made. The challenge is taking accountability and utmost responsibility, particularly in conveying information, primarily for those affecting people's daily lives. In mislead the Vilpings public is to deny to COPM's professed intentions of serving and protecting consumers. Public responsibility demands that COPM adhere to factual evidence, correct its wrong does and conclusions so that the public may know the truth about the issues.

Gov't rejects all tenders for 10-yr zero coupon bonds

Rate sought by the market too high, says BT

By Anand V. Bhatnagar

Tender Rejected The government has rejected all tenders for 10-year zero coupon bonds issued by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Tuesday. The rejection was based on the high yield sought by the market, which was above the government's target. The RBI had invited tenders for the bonds on Monday, but none of the bids met the required criteria. The government is looking for a yield of around 7.5% for these bonds, but the market was offering yields between 8% and 9%. The rejection is a setback for the government's attempt to raise funds through long-term debt. It may lead to a revision of the tender process or a change in the bond's terms.

Harmonious fusion of cultures

By Ravi K. Sharma

10/10/17

Harmonious fusion of cultures The fusion of different cultures is a beautiful sight to behold. It is a blend of various traditions, customs, and beliefs that create a unique and vibrant society. In India, we have a rich heritage of diverse cultures that have coexisted for centuries. The fusion of these cultures has led to the development of a unique Indian identity. We should embrace our diversity and work towards a more harmonious and inclusive society.

GOALS-ON Digitising India P.O.T

By Anand V. Bhatnagar

10/10/17

GOALS-ON Digitising India is a crucial step towards achieving the vision of a digital India. It is a process of converting physical information into digital format, which can be stored, processed, and transmitted electronically. This process has the potential to revolutionize various sectors of the economy, including education, healthcare, and government services. By digitising our data, we can improve efficiency, reduce costs, and enhance the quality of our services. It is a goal that we should strive to achieve in the coming years.

RP to put up R&D facility for energy, electronics sectors

By Anand V. Bhatnagar

10/10/17

RP to put up R&D facility The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) is planning to set up a research and development (R&D) facility for the energy and electronics sectors. This facility will be located in the RBI campus in Mumbai. It will be used for conducting research and development work in the areas of renewable energy, smart grids, and electronic components. The facility will be equipped with state-of-the-art equipment and facilities. It will provide a platform for collaboration between the RBI and the private sector. This initiative is a part of the RBI's efforts to promote innovation and research in the financial sector.

Spare a dime for reading

By Joyce E. Flores

It's a good idea to have a bookshelf in your home, but it's not always easy to find the time to read. If you're looking for a way to make the most of your spare time, consider reading. It's a great way to relax and unwind after a long day. Reading can also help you learn new things and improve your vocabulary. So, if you have a spare dime, why not spend it on a new book?

High school

High school basketball players are often looking for ways to improve their skills. One way to do this is by watching professional games. This can help them learn from the best players in the world. Another way is by practicing with a coach. A coach can provide them with feedback and help them develop their game. So, if you're a high school basketball player, make sure you're taking advantage of all the opportunities you have to improve.

Michael Brown is a professional basketball player who has played for several teams. He is known for his shooting ability and his leadership on the court. He has won several championships and has been named MVP several times. He is a role model for young players and is always looking for ways to improve his game.

Cashiers should not be food servers

It's a common sight in many restaurants: a cashier standing behind the counter, ready to take orders. But what if the cashier is also the food server? This is a controversial issue, and many people believe that cashiers should not be food servers. Here's why.

First, cashiers and food servers have different skills. Cashiers are trained to take orders and handle money, while food servers are trained to serve food and interact with customers. If a cashier is also a food server, they may not be as good at either job. This could lead to mistakes and poor customer service.

Second, cashiers and food servers have different schedules. Cashiers often work late shifts, while food servers often work early shifts. If a cashier is also a food server, they may have to work long hours, which could be exhausting and lead to burnout.

Third, cashiers and food servers have different responsibilities. Cashiers are responsible for taking orders and handling money, while food servers are responsible for serving food and interacting with customers. If a cashier is also a food server, they may not be able to do either job as well as they should.

So, if you're a restaurant owner, consider hiring separate cashiers and food servers. This will ensure that each job is done well, and your customers will be happy.

By the way, if you're a cashier, make sure you're always smiling and being friendly to your customers. This will help you get a good tip and make your job more enjoyable.

And if you're a food server, make sure you're always being attentive to your customers. This will help you get a good tip and make your job more enjoyable.

So, whether you're a cashier or a food server, make sure you're always doing your best. This will help you succeed in your job and make your customers happy.
